Distinct expression patterns of BBS1 and BBS4 regulate ciliogenesis via SPAG5 in vertebrate liver. Benomyl B (BmB) inhibits the catalytic activity of  $\alpha$ -tubulin in microtubule assembly and causes multinucleated and cytoplasmic cell death in the amphibian tadpole. The gene encoding BBS1 was co-isolated with the gene encoding BmB, and both BBS1 and BBS4 are mutated in patients with ciliopathies. In this study, we investigated the function of BBS1 and BBS4 during vertebrate liver development. Zebrafish BBS1 and BBS4 were expressed in the liver primordia at the 2-somite stage. At the 6-somite stage, BBS1 expression marked the centriolar cap of the ciliated cells, whereas BBS4 expression was detected in the basal bodies of the centrioles. TgBBS1-mCherry knockdown resulted in aberrant ciliogenesis and abnormal liver development, characterized by scattered multinucleated cells, narrowed lumen of the bile duct, and ectopic cartilage formation in the liver. TgBBS4-mCherry knockdown resulted in widespread ciliogenesis and normal liver development. Knockdown of BBS1 in adult mouse hepatocytes resulted in abnormal centriolar assembly and disrupted ciliogenesis. Knockdown of BBS4 in mouse primary hepatocytes resulted in a compensatory effect on ciliogenesis. We found that SPAG5 was co-expressed with BBS1 and BBS4 and identified in a BBS4- and BBS1-interacting protein complex. Knockdown of SPAG5 resulted in reduced ciliogenesis in zebrafish embryos and increased apoptosis in adult mouse hepatocytes. Our data suggest that BBS1 and BBS4 play a non-redundant role in the regulation of ciliogenesis in vertebrate liver. Boy oh boy! It took a lot of talking, but I convinced my dad and mom that I would have something to show for my time working as a barista at a café during the summer. They both surprised me this past weekend when we went to Ruxpin Toys and found this little mystery behind the counter! I'm already imagining what I'm going to make with this and I'm so glad I found out early. Who

Marketing & Communication HG1.6B Deal for Huawei Philippines to be finalised soon Huawei (TPE:HWT) has started to weigh in on the speculations about its first homegrown local foray in the Philippine market. The Chinese telecom firm is expanding the Philippines as it looks for new growth markets. After a few, but partial and disappointing, efforts in Vietnam, China, Russia and Indonesia, Huawei decided to green-light the Philippines as its next big business hub. In February 2018, Huawei launched its first locally assembled smartphone in the Philippines, the P30 Lite. Huawei is expected to gain more local market share. Although it accounts for less than 1% in Southeast Asia, the Philippines is still a big market and will grow rapidly. Now we learnt that the Shenzhen-based telecom firm has been in talks to clinch a deal with Globe with which Huawei set up an exclusive partnership in 2016, with both signing a joint venture with HP Inc to boost innovation. Huawei's strategic partner in the Philippines, Globe, has gained an exclusive contract with Huawei to manufacture and sell Huawei smartphones in the country. The joint venture aims to bring in an additional 4G LTE network and accelerate innovation in the Philippines, China's largest market, says Huawei. HP Inc is

On the other hand, Globe CEO Manuel V. Pangilinan said the partnership is
