Use the keygen to get the ODB2UAS.exe (which is a Microsoft.NET component used by Autocad LTU). Get Autocad LTU or you can use the Registry Editor to modify the HKEY_LOCAL_MACHINE\SOFTWARE\Autodesk\Autocad LTU and HKEY_CURRENT_USER\SOFTWARE\Autodesk\Autocad LTU and modify the "ProductComponent" sub-key. Rename the keyvalue to something like "0.9.3" and modify the value to the following: Note: the.Net SDK,.Net Framework, and all.Net components in Autodesk LTU and Autocad LTU are all compiled as separate DLLs and not as an executable. So this.exe is not the.Net SDK. Compile the ODB2UAS.exe from your development environment as a DLL and rename it to ODB2UAS.dll. Reference ODB2UAS.dll in your ASP.NET code in the project. Configure the DLL loading in the web.config or .NET config file. You are done now! No need to use that awful.NET Project Generator. Dynamic bone mineral density of the lumbar spine in premenopausal women with normal body mass index. The aim of this study was to examine the dynamic bone mineral density (BMD) of the lumbar spine in premenopausal women with normal body mass index (BMI) using dual-energy X-ray absorptiometry (DXA) and to compare these values with those of men and postmenopausal women. This prospective study included consecutive premenopausal women (n=102; age: 45.5±4.6 years) without a history of menstruation for the last 6 months. The height, weight, and BMI of the women were determined, and DXA of the lumbar spine was performed to assess the T-score, Z-score, BMD, and bone mineral content (BMC). The levels of 25-hydroxyvitamin D [25(OH)D] and parathyroid hormone (PTH) in the blood samples were also determined. The study population was divided into four groups according to the presence or absence of osteopenia (T-score
