What's new:

Looks very interesting and I plan to add it to the Play Store. It's a shame I don't have an AD account, but it is a PC game. Hmmm, now that I think about it, maybe the Spanish release will be iPhone compatible as well since it is in the Apple AppStore, right?

@Loquant: are they just announcing a release, or are they developing different games too? I can't find any information about which games are being developed or advertised in their launch ads. That's why I'm asking if they are currently or have ever developed other games. Actually this game seems pretty awesome. I'm not really looking forward to what the XHCD creators will end up with now though The amateur video is nice, but it suffers greatly from being shot on a phone. Please do not use such poor quality recordings.I'd like to see a professional video. I want to know what this game is going to be like in its full version. Hi! Im from Mexico and im very exited because i cant find the XHCD Team at all, although the game appeared in the spanish Apple store. No disrespect to the work of the team, Im kinda worried 'cause I was hoping to see some "rough" early screenies from the game itself! And I would really appreciate to know how to make an Iphone version of this game, i would really like to see its first 10 minutos, as a launch trailer shown on ESPN, and its release day at the same video!!
