Check out FIFA World Cup 20 at Gamescom here. Followed the link to a YouTube video. It was quite good. So different! My child's whole life has been about practicality and logic. I never understood or was able to explain how his brain was wired. Now I'm getting an idea. What would those with a different kind of brain do if someone came along and put them in a simulation, where they don't know where they are? The Disney movie "The Jungle Book" came out about the time of his birth. There was a monkey character that was sort of like a human. He was kidnapped and didn't know where he was but he got off the island and eventually found his way home. That was another good movie! You don't come across many monkeys in the wild anymore. I think a lot of the children's stories and books and movies I read as a kid, weren't fiction. So different from today's kids. They don't read fiction any more. But they do read non-fiction. I'm not sure why? 5 comments: Hi there! Your blog is lovely and I love that all kids love books..something that I think I missed out on and now regret! I've also got a child (now 5) whose top favourite was Disney one, too! Love it! Also think we can thank books for our superior cultures too! Looking forward to reading!

communicate with the system. For instance, some user interfaces can include screens displaying a map of a town, and allow a user to select a given address, where the address can be used to obtain the name of a restaurant in that town. In this scenario, the UI refers to a screen (i.e., a means of communication) displaying the map, and the map can include pins or labels displayed at the locations of restaurants and/or addresses. Other user interfaces include kiosks, web pages, etc., which can provide advertising, information, entertainment or other information to a user. To maximize the effectiveness of the information, and/or advertisements, and/or other content, advertisers

Players have a heightened awareness of space and time, in addition to their existing mechanics, which has allowed us to shift the balance of the sport. We've broadened the game's features to unlock some of the abilities in our most-skilled players while also breaking down the skills needed to create goals, to free attackers, and score effective set-pieces. Our engine puts a premium on quick, intelligent ball movement, with smart, more accurate AI anticipation on opponents. Once a team gains the ball, the smarter the movements across the pitch, the harder it is to defend, and we've increased the frequency with which teams change the intensity of the match. Game intelligence shifts the balance of the match to favour the team with the best situational understanding of the situation at any given moment. FIFA 22 will feature real-world player ratings in every position and game mode as players become more capable and more difficult to score against based on their profile. Who are the new ways the game reacts to the ever-changing state of the pitch? We've completely redesigned our game engine from the ground up, which means it will be more agile to adapt to and react to changes on bc9d6d6daa
