A: Redirects in general are handled with IF-conditions in Apache. They are also done for the "Option MultiViews" in case you have enabled that option. Also "Options +MultiViews" in that case, if you don't have it. Basically where you have: if {!-f $file} { } You should have: if {!-f $file} { rewrite (.*) /mywebsite/myfolder/$1; } In this case the new content should go to /mywebsite/myfolder/index.php If you are using the old content without the redirect, then you will have to check if (MultiViews is enabled) in order to change the url. Example: Alias /oldpage /mywebsite/myfolder/oldpage In that case, should be changed into Alias /oldpage /mywebsite/myfolder/$1 Put that in a .htaccess file in your /mywebsite/myfolder folder. 1 So.3d 803 (2007) Patricia DOBKIN, a minor, by her guardian ad litem, Jerry INGE, Appellant, v.
