What's New In SharePoint Messenger?

SharePoint Messenger is a web part that enables the user to send private messages to a contact list in minutes with your website. Microsoft may be interested in hooking up Office 365 and Office 365 Pro Plus as part of an upcoming update to Office 2003, according to analyst firm Satya Partners. SharePoint Designer has support for the new option -- called Advanced Mode -- for creating SharePoint documents. In Advanced Mode, a user can insert the required SharePoint-relevant elements directly into a SharePoint 2007 document without the need to edit the Office 2003 document. And Satya Partners analyst Priya Rangarajan noted that the company also noted that it plans to extend SharePoint Designer functionality, including Project Server functionality, to SharePoint 2007 in a future service pack or update. During the current year, Satya Partners predicts double-digit growth for SharePoint. And Rangarajan noted that growth will be driven by the company's Enterprise and Development editions of SharePoint 2007, along with the company's business process management software, BizTalk Server 2007, and its messaging products. "SharePoint has a significant strength in the enterprise space," Rangarajan said. "With SharePoint's traditional strengths, organizations are looking for new ways to leverage these strengths to manage information in ways that go beyond traditional email and report management applications. We see two distinct scenarios where organizations are looking to extend SharePoint." According to Satya Partners, Microsoft Office 2003 and SharePoint have a $8.5 billion installed base. Using a number of approaches including analysis of transgenic and knockout mice, a combination of immunohistochemical and in situ hybridization techniques with single cell analysis techniques, and cultured cells, the investigators will use this system to address the following specific aims: 1) to determine the regulatory relationship between GATA-3 and the TCF4 transcription factor in T cell development; 2) to determine the regulatory relationship between NF-AT and the AP-1 transcription factor in T cell development; 3) to determine the structural requirements for the function of the cytoplasmic transactivation domains of the NF-ATp and NF
