Smiley Extender For Windows

is a software, which helps you get pass smiley codes of sites, where you cannot use them because of anti-spam requirements. There are so many sites, where it is not possible to use smileys like ::-) etc. For example, MSN Messenger does not allow smileys and all smileys listed are meaningless (i.e. they do not mean anything). So you are looking for a way to send them with your (email) messages. With Smiley Extender you can do this even with Yahoo, AOL, Gtalk, GTalk, Jabber, ICQ, OSE and others. You may use the software only to see the codes, if you do not want to send them just delete the files at the output folder. With Smiley Extender you can send hidden smileys like: In all versions of Smiley Extender the free version has 3 special messenger icons: 1) The smiley from the list can be used on all your messenger (Yahoo, AOL, Gtalk, Jabber, GTalk, ICQ, OSE and others). You can select the messenger from the "Select Messenger Version" dialog box. You will see the smiley in the chat window once you click the smiley icon. 2) The smiley from the list can be used in all chat and instant messenger programs. You will get the smiley added to your last opened window. 3) You can use all the smileys listed in any messenger and have them pasted anywhere with each other. The smileys are "pasted" between each other. That means, you can use all of them in the same message and they are added as separators, which look like this: :-) :-P... :-/ After running the software, you will see a window like the one below. Note: you need to select "Enable smileys" before use. Features of Smiley Extender 100% Compatible with all versions of the programs SUPPORT for all programs (MSN Messenger version 7 and later) see the smileys of all messengers, which support them see all of these icons and the smileys they represent send smileys from an icon list or through a code use the smileys on messenger windows (MSN or others) add smileys between each other Smiley Extender can be used on all your messengers:
