Features Key:

- Easy to use: HOST is a classic Topozone client. Unlike other game clients of its kind, HOST did not try to be more like other clients. It is simple. It does only what it was made for.
 - Friendly UI: HOST's interface is straightforward, easy to use, friendly to novice and power user alike.
 - Crazy Profiles: HOST supports tons of crazy game profiles. No special configuration is needed at all. Just install HOST and drop some dummy plugins.
 - Perfect Profile Discovery: HOST recognizes all your profile game keys stored in your Keyman. That means no more complicated tag scanning with lots of tags that do not work, or no more complicated tag editing. Just click the key in Keyman and HOST will do its magic.
 - Fast & Efficient: HOST is designed to do just one job - controlling game profiles. HOST does nothing else. It uses less resources than any other game client, but loads faster aswell.

HOST Game Key limitations

- No CGIS, etc: HOST currently does not support virtual stores, fog, duplex or vector maps. So it's very much less feature-complete than its competition. If that is unimportant to you, that is no problem at all. You do not have to pay any money for HOST either. I'm not interested in making HOST a CGIS or feature-complete game client. If you know what to be missing and think it's a important feature, please run HOST, file a bug report and tell us why it is a must-have or not. I'm even willing to implement such things myself.

Later that same day, Elektra records also released But I'm Wide Awake (Take My Hand, Precious Lord). Look at the wonderful cover art. That was "The Loved One" tab (click in this link to view). No one has ever mentioned the Eddie Kendricks singing "Reach Out I'll Be There." No one. And, it's true. It's almost impossible to find this record. It's a shame, 'cause it's a great record. Someone recently sent it to Robert Lamm (Kantones). John Coltrane's alto is just gutsy! John Coltrane's alto *2. He's paying homage to John Coltrane in a couple spots. As it turns out, he's recording with Sonny Red (from Sonny and Cher). Also, one of the last time John Coltrane plays slide guitar. Elektra records released "Saturday's Best" by Little Willie John. It's a gospel song with a preachy verse followed by a great gospel chorus. In this part, Little Willie hummed the riff to "Moves Like Jagger." After the song, he talked about the

The recording by Guy Mitchell is by far the best recording. Saturday's Best Shoo-way Baby In the second verse "Saturday" turns into "Sunday" and "... from 4:00 to noon." It is one of
