I have just purchased a Couth manual for a MC2000. Does the MC2000 come with a manual? They seem to be very hard to find. Any ideas where I could get one? Thanks! I have an install question if you're able to answer. I bought a Jetico 2000 manual from a local website called screen. I am a little confused about the installation. The manual states " A manual air blast unit. How do I know if I should connect the line and return pipe together on the side where the air blast control valve is? Thanks for your help! If you have your own manual JEITACO2000 manual that you can send me, I will post you my video where I complete my installation. me? Please see my code below: I want to change the text size which is in tag by xaml. hello A: You are creating a resource called MenuFontSize. This can be used to define different Menu font sizes. By default the TextBlock will use these font sizes from the resource. If you want to change the text size of the textblock, you need to add another property. I haven't used your app and so I can't show you, but let's say you have this layout: Hello And you want to change the size of the text. You add another property to the style that changes the size of the text.
