We can download the script from GitHub as a zip file here: Á . I also spent a few hours getting the bot to work, so I assume the zip file has had the usual inevitable issues with forum language files and whatnot. I'd recommend downloading it to your computer and running it via "botfather" I had to do some changing of settings as it only allowed me to download and use 10 bots at a time, but if you can figure that out, free download! Since DarkOrbit is not developed anymore, and people don't log into games anymore, I don't use it for downloading anymore. You might get in some trouble if you use it to get things for yourself, if you really need it for this, please contact me via email. Ok, if your game doesn't have the right permissions, then when your bot download files, you can get banned from your game. Please contact me via an email. Best Bot - Dark Orbit Bot 2 of 2... Download: Open the file, right click on the black ball, click "open containing folder". Then go to your Desktop... I had a good time tonight with this bot. It's a pretty decent bot and the play rate was about 30%-40% depending on the game, and it traded well. One of the random bots here was even belling all the time. I downloaded this bot and tried it on a game called Starship Operators. It helped me so much and I'm sure I'll keep using it!
